We love challenges.

We plan, design and implement utility line construction projects of all types.

In the cablex segment Civil Work Operations, we implement projects in utility line construction and special civil engineering for you. In addition, we offer overall solutions for interdisciplinary infrastructure projects with engineering and construction services.

cablex's long-term experience in infrastructure construction will provide you with references you can trust. We guarantee professional and on-schedule execution of your projects in compliance with the statutory requirements. You can thus focus on your core business. Our team takes care of the smooth running of your projects.

Work that we do for our customers.

- Construction planning
- Planning cable technology in rail transport
- Utility line construction: ditch excavation, pipe installation, cable traction work
- Trenchless pipeline construction: pile driving, jacking, directional jacking
- Civil engineering and surfacing work
- Construction and reinforced concrete work: foundations for catenary masts, foundations for masts of wireless antennas, shafts competent, dedicated, reliable.
